

The Power Of Touch

Easily Make Her Crave You Inside Her

If you've been going through this course, then that means that you're looking to bring home more women more often.

In Sexual Mind Reader, you learned how to read a woman's facial features from across a room to know not only if she's the kind of woman who will go home with you but also how the sex will be.

Next, you discovered a number of great ways to approach a woman and start a conversation in a way that she will find incredibly attractive and bring out her inner wild side.

In this eBook, we're going to go over the simplest and most straightforward strategy to bringing her home right on the very first night.

This does not require you to spend loads of money (heck, you realistically don't even have to spend a single dollar). You also do not need to be good looking, in great physical shape, drive a fancy car, or anything else like that.

Instead, we're going to discuss a simple technique that you can use that will stimulate the blood flow and all of her nerve endings and get enough blood rushing between her legs that she'll be begging to go home with you.

The best part is, this technique is so subtle, you can do it in public in front of all of her friends and nobody will even notice. In fact, when you follow along exactly how I have laid out, she won't even realize what you're doing until she can't keep her hands off of you.

Now I need to warn you that while you're practicing this technique you take it very slow in the beginning. It's very easy to get a little over zealous and use this technique a little too overtly. When this happens, you will set off her body's internal warning signals and it will be very hard to win her over.

However, when you take your time, act cool, and perform this in a more smooth and comfortable way, she will crave feeling you all over her and inside of her.

Now, in order to fully understand how this technique works, we're going to need to start working backwards starting from the end of the night to the first time you meet.

So now with that out of the way, let's get started.

Imagine this. One evening you find yourself at one of your favorite night spots, when in walks the most beautiful woman you've ever seen...

She is drop dead gorgeous from head to toes, and no matter how hard you try, you just can't take your eyes off of her...

And in a few short hours you and her are in bed together getting down and dirty...

She's laying there naked with her breasts facing up, giving you the best view possible...

Seconds later you see her eyes roll to the back of her head...

You hear her moaning... Her breathing is getting louder and louder as her face begins to turn red...

She arches her back and thrusts her hips in your direction, and you notice her vagina has become dripping wet...

And just then, she screams out "Oh my god, i'm coming!" as her body begins to shake violently...

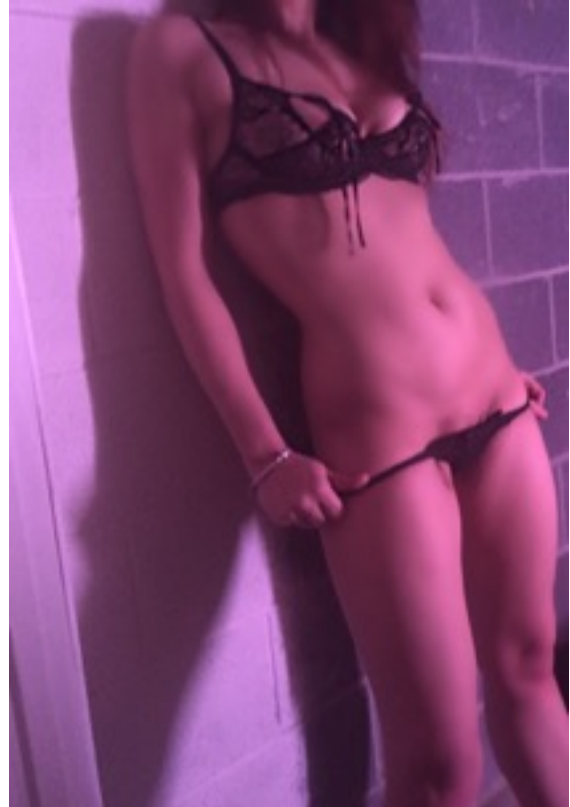

You've just given the most beautiful woman you've ever been with the single most intense orgasm she's ever experienced...

Well done...

It's one of the most fantastic and sexually powerful nights of your life (so far, anyway)

But you probably want to know how you got to this point...

What led you to this moment?

What did you do differently?

Actually that's the best part. You didn't have to DO anything.

What if I told you that this wild, passionate night of love making is the result of an undetectable, under-the-radar technique that - once deployed - compels HER to seduce you and make it as easy as possible for you to get her into bed.

It's a technique so powerful that it works on single, gorgeous women who happily sleep with you once you initiate this technique...

And it also works amazingly well on your long term girlfriend or wife... Even if you believe the passion has died in your relationship a long time ago...

Step back in time with me and I'll show you what made this work so well for you...

This way, you can fully understand exactly what it is that makes this technique such a powerful tool for your sex life...

Now before this gorgeous woman was laying naked on the bed begging you for sex, you first needed to make her crave the thought of having you inside of her...

All the while her body is squirming, and her panties continue to get more and more wet with lust and passionate desire for you...

She is practically begging you for sex before you even get to the bedroom... and of course, you're happy to give it to her...

Now let's continue to back up a little bit...

When we think about this logically, you'll have to agree that before a woman is excited to go home for a night of sex with you she must really enjoy the feeling of you kissing her, touching her, and making her feel desired, right?

And before she can begin enjoying the feeling of you touching her, she needs to simply feel comfortable with your hands on her...

There are a few sneaky under-the-radar ways to pull this off, and we're going to go over them in just a moment.

But I want to discuss one of my personal favorites.

Well on this particular night, you used a very simple yet incredibly powerful trick that is based around an article of clothing that she is wearing you will find on women more often than not...

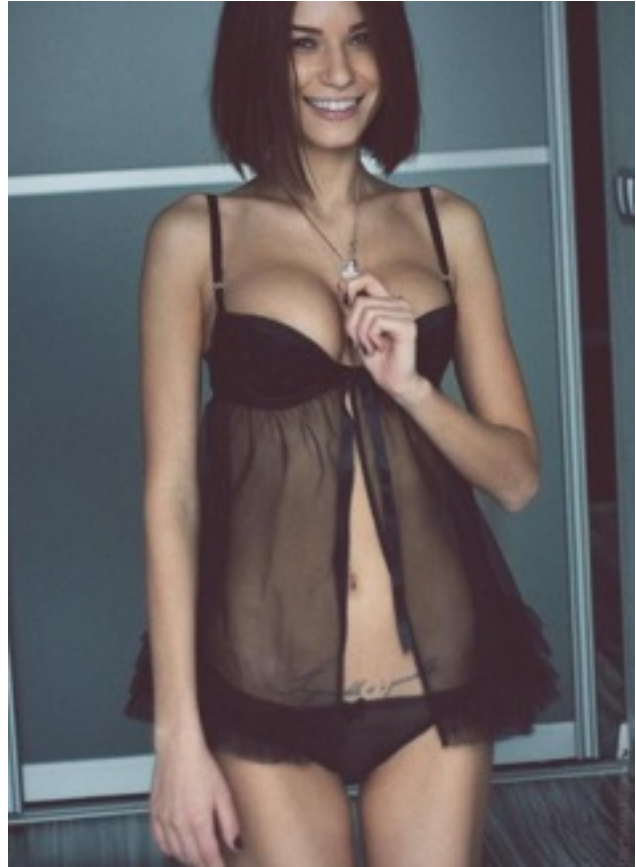

See, when women get dressed to go out, we are doing our best to impress you...

This means that we sometimes wear things that look good but don't feel good...

And let me tell you, high heeled shoes are no fun for us to wear at all....

They hurt a ton, and become very uncomfortable very quickly...

And the longer we've been standing or walking around in them, the more our feet hurt...

So as you and she are sitting down and talking, you noticed that she is wearing a pair of high heels that you know just can't possibly feel good...

You both have been hitting it off all night and now you notice that her feet are a bit tender. You offer to give her a gentle foot rub and she couldn't be happier.

Your hands glide effortlessly on her feet and ankles as she lets out quiet sounds of pleasure, letting you know she is enjoying everything you are doing...

After a moment, you notice that she relaxes her thighs and separates her legs slightly...

Just enough to let you know she's inviting you to slide your hands even further up her toned and smooth inner-legs...

It's here that she has gone from accepting your hands on her, to enjoying how you make her lower body feel...

And even craving to know what you plan on doing next... The suspense is starting to build, and she is quickly becoming putty in your hands...

To take your hands off of her at this point would completely break the sexual tension, and take her out of this experience...

So instead, this is where you lean in and give her a deep and passionate kiss, at the same time, feel free to slide your hand further up the outside of her thigh.

From here you want to show her your sexual intelligence by whispering quietly in her ear, "come with me", pick up her high heels by the strap in one hand, while you hold her with your other hand and guide her to the door...

As smooth and seemingly random as this may have sounded, you've used this same routine numerous times in the past, so you knew for sure that it was going to work once again...

Let's continue working backwards through the evening so you see exactly why none of this was random, but instead it was much easier and more common than you may expect...

So this probably won't come as a surprise, but when you meet a woman for the first time, you cannot immediately offer to give her a foot rub and expect her to be okay with it no matter how much her feet may hurt...

In order to get to that point, you must first make her feel a certain level of comfort with you touching her...

And to do this it is very important that you begin touching her in a very comforting and natural seeming way as early on as possible, without giving off a creepy vibe at all...

So right from the moment that you approached her and shook hands, the game was on...

You made sure to gently place your hand on her upper-back while introducing her to your friends...

This began to make her recognize you as someone whom physical contact is a regular thing...

As the conversation progressed you knew to gently and without hesitation touch her arm or leg when one of you would ask a question, make a funny comment or joke, or even make a statement with a certain amount of emphasis.

For instance if you were sitting down talking about travel, and she mentioned that she recently visited somewhere that you have also been to, you could place your hand slightly above her knee when you proclaim “Oh my god, I was just there last year... Isn’t it gorgeous?”

Next, you may decide to slide your hand up her leg slightly and on to her arm when you mention something such as having eaten the best desserts of your life while on this vacation...

When you do this correctly you will immediately notice her reciprocate by grabbing your arm in return, placing her hand on your leg, or even deciding to hold your hand when she agrees with you about the amazing desserts.

Simple little gestures like these will very quickly make her feel comfortable with you touching her...

She becomes even more comfortable when she realizes that this is no big deal for you since it feels completely normal and natural...

You are now starting to guide her mind and body exactly where you want it...

She’s starting to really enjoy spending time with you, and a major part of that is how safe she’s beginning to feel when you are touching her...

It is now time to bring her in even closer...

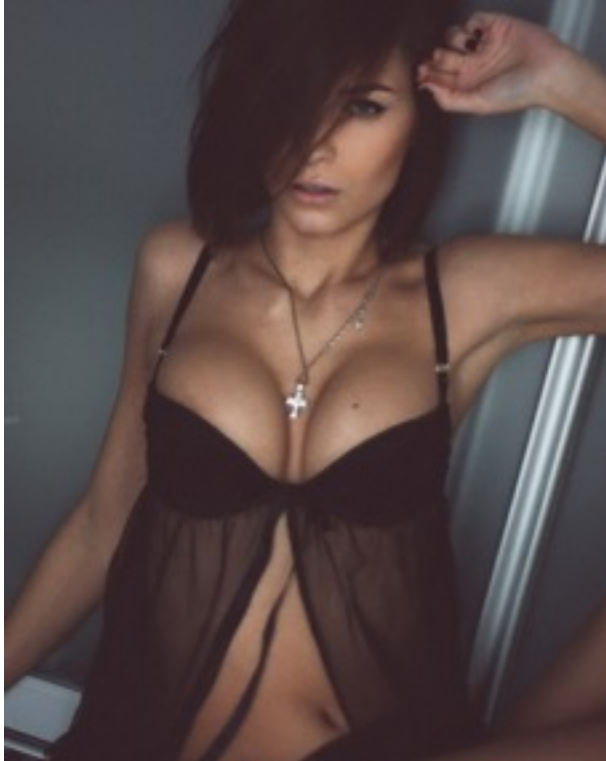

Since you know she is already comfortable and her attraction towards you only continues to grow, you can feel free to turn towards her a bit while you put your arm around her and rest your other hand on her leg...

Doing this will cause her to move in closer to you whether she realizes that this is what is happening or not...

From here, all you have to do is continue doing what you've been doing for a couple more minutes...

After that, she will be ready for you to go in for the kiss...

Once the kiss has ended, you can carefully suggest something like, "Hey let's get out of here" or "let's go somewhere else".

And we both know exactly where the rest of the evening is going to go from here...

Of course, there were a million different variables that could have affected this night...

Maybe there weren't any available seats for you to sit down in...

Maybe she wasn't wearing shoes that looked uncomfortable enough for you to offer a foot rub...

It honestly does not matter at all...

The only thing that matters is that you followed these 4 simple steps...

Step 1: Use basic touches as early on as possible to make her begin feeling comfortable around you...

This will help her to enjoy the sensation of feeling your hands on her...

Step 2: is to make her feel like your touches are very commonplace and natural to the interaction...

Each touch is there for a reason, for instance if she were to say something funny or you realize you both having something in common like a favorite tv show.

If you were to just touch her for no particular reason, she would immediately take note of it as this would be awkward and feel sort of creepy to her.

However, when each touch is there for a reason, she'll begin inviting you to touch her more.

For you to remove your hands would cause a distraction that she does not want...

Step 3: is to make her turned on sexually by your touch...

It's here that she is going to begin imagining you in a very sexual way...

And unfortunately, this is where most men mess everything up, and end up going home alone once again...

This is usually because most men get into their own head and get intimidated very easily.

It's at this point that most women will begin to hold much stronger eye contact, and will expect you to do the same.

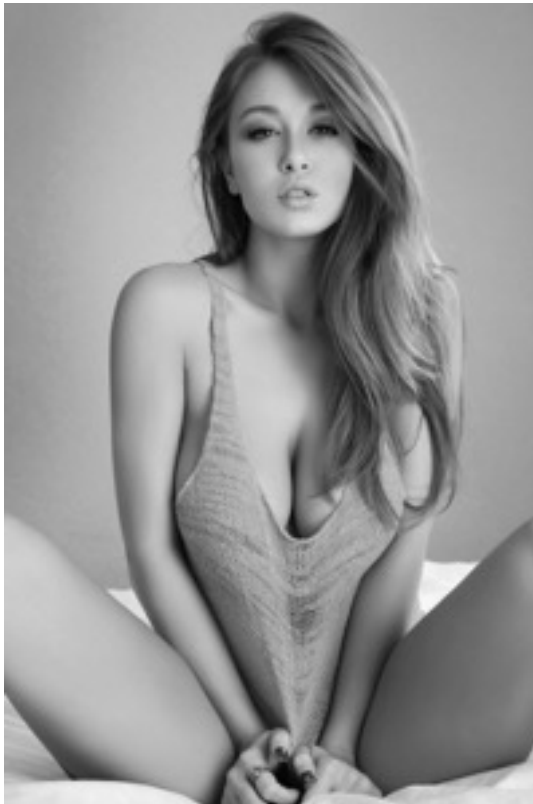

Being able to look deep into each other's eyes without turning away will let her know that you have passionate, sexual feelings towards her and that you are the kind of man who will reach out and take what he wants.

However, if you were to look away, avoid eye contact, or back off, she will believe that you are intimidated by her sexually and thus will not be able to take control in the bedroom and won't be able to satisfy her.

While you're maintaining strong eye contact, give her a little smirk while you talk. Not a full smile, but just a little hint.

Also, bonus points if you have your arm on her lower back and gently dig your nails into her. Be careful though, you don't want to go too hard and hurt her and ruin the entire experience.

You could also use this opportunity to hold hands with her or brush the hair away from her face and pull her in close as you go to kiss her.

Step 4: is to continue using your touch to make her crave you so much that she cannot help herself from getting naked with you for a night of wild and uninhibited sex...

So if you follow the steps correctly, you've begun with subtle and innocent touches from the moment you met her...

Continued to build these up until they felt completely natural...

Slowly turned up the intensity by maintaining stronger eye contact and slightly more intimate touches...

Demonstrated your sexual intelligence by knowing when to go in for the kiss, and let her know that you're a man who takes what he wants as you guide her out of the venue back to your place.

Every step along the way has made her brain believe and feel like your hands should be on your body like she should be growing more physically intimate with you and to stop growing more and more intimate would make her feel like you were taking something away from her, or that you were not sexually intelligent enough to handle her.

So as I stated in the very beginning of this book, you will need to take your time, be patient, and practice this slowly one interaction at a time.

Don't jump right in and start running your hands all over every woman you meet, as this will only scare her off.

The slower and more cautious you are with this, the easier it will be to calibrate how you're doing and how you're advancing, and you will very quickly find that it will become much, much easier to bring home just about any woman you want.

And when you combine this with the facial feature reading techniques from Sexual Mind Reader, you will be unstoppable as you will almost always only be approaching women that you've prequalified as sexually active and wild in bed, all while you make her body crave you.

Really, what more do you have to ask for?

Putting It All Together

We just went over one of the simplest and most effective ways to physically escalate in a very natural feeling yet sexual way with a woman.

As you practice this technique and improve your calibration and get more proficient with it, you'll find just how easy it is to bring home nearly any woman you want.

And when you combine this with the face reading techniques from Sexual Mind Reader, you will no doubt be able to enjoy the company of more women in your bed than you may believe is even possible.

But there's one crucial factor you need to be aware of:

If You Can't Satisfy Her In Bed, Don't Expect Her To Ever Come Back For More

Women have a lot more sexual options than most men do. If she's attractive and very sexual by nature, you can bet she has tons of guys who would kill to get her in bed.

So why would she ever want to be with a guy who couldn't satisfy her?

If you're looking for her to come over more often, become a regular sex buddy, or even turn this into a potential long-term relationship, you're going to need to know how to take care of every one of her needs in bed.

Otherwise, you can kiss your chances of her coming back goodbye.
