Hi, this is Isabella Stone,

This eBook is dedicated to helping you learn how to talk to a woman in such ways that she becomes so turned on, she won't be able to think about anything else other than getting you alone so she can rip your clothes off right then and there.

I bet you're going to be surprised at how easy it is to accomplish this when you know exactly what to say and how to say it.

In this eBook you are going to learn how to use text messages, as well as simple, innocent sounding words and phrases (you probably use every day) to get her thinking about you in a very sexual way.

Doing this well all comes down to a simple matter of understanding how a woman's brain works.

See, men are very visual creatures. This is why most pornography features extreme close ups and tons of angles of the same shot. Men like to see what's going on all the time.

Women on the other hand tend to use their imagination when it comes to sexual fantasies.

This is why romance novels continue to sell well each and every year.

If you can paint a picture with your words that builds an amazing sexual fantasy for women, you will be able to make her putty in your hands.

Unfortunately, most men will never realize this and try to use other means of attracting women. Showing off their expensive and shiny objects, working out till they believe they have the perfect body for her, and generally trying to make themselves seem like a big deal.

However, the most successful seducers of women in the world realized that they could control a woman's sexual desires and emotions using nothing else but their words.

Of course it's easy to realize that your words could make a woman feel happy, sad, comforted, and a myriad of other emotions.

And sexual desire is no exception. You'll have full control over her sexual cravings by simply knowing the right words to say to her.

Before you will be able to use these words and phrases to their full effect, you will need to understand a bit about the science of HOW and WHY they work.

Basically, we are able to attach a number of memories to various words that can spark numerous emotions from different senses.

If you were to close your eyes and think about the word "sprinkler" it might bring to your mind several different images.

For instance, you may think about the emergency fire sprinklers you might find on the ceiling of your office. Or you might think about that little piece of metal that waters your grass in the mornings.

But, if I asked you to close your eyes and think about what it used to be like when you would run through the water sprinkler in your front yard as a child; you would probably have fond memories of putting your bathing suit on and running and jumping for hours on end with your friends and siblings.

When you are speaking to a woman, it's very easy to make her imagine things (such as getting down and dirty with you) when you know exactly what to say and how to say it.

We call these "Trigger Words" and "Trigger Sentences" because they are used to trigger certain emotional and physical responses.

The best part is that you can use these words and phrases exactly as they are written in this eBook, and on the surface it won't seem like you are trying to be sexual with her at all.

So with that out of the way, it's time to get started with some simple words and sentences you can use to really spice things up, starting right now:

1- Tight

"I had a great workout yesterday and now my muscles feel really tight."

"I was going to wear my new pair of jeans, but they are just too tight."

"I need to get a massage soon, my back is feeling really tight."

"I hope my car doesn't get scratched, the spot I parked in is really tight."

2 - Screw

"I'd forget my head if it wasn't screwed to my shoulders."

"The way my boss was looking at me, I thought I was totally screwed."

"I wouldn't say she was crazy, but she definitely had a screw loose."

3 - Wet

"Sometimes you've got to just jump on in and get your feet wet."

"I forgot my umbrella when I was racing to get over here. That's why I'm soaking wet."

"It was so hot out today, I'm still dripping wet."

4 - Hard

"The class/test started getting pretty hard."

"You've got to come to my Crossfit class with me. It's the hardest workout you'll ever have."

"My jerk of a boss was being really hard on me over nothing."

"Staying out all night drinking with friends is getting harder and harder the older I get."

"You've got to challenge yourself. Some things in life are better when they're hard."

5 - Play

“I like to work hard so I can play hard.”

“You want to come over later to split a bottle of wine and play along while we watch Jeopardy?”

“A few of us are going to the park to play flag football this weekend. Do you want to play on my team?”

“Oh come on, that was just a joke. I can’t believe you don’t like a little playful teasing!”

6 - Rough

“I prefer my workouts to be a bit rough.”

“I’ve been having a pretty rough time lately, so I need you to play nice with me tonight.”

“Oh man I had the longest week ever, it was so rough. I would kill for a shoulder rub.”

7 - Blow

“I thought the wind was going to blow me over, it was so strong.”

“Did you really challenge me to a game of darts? Not only am I not going to let you win, but I’m going to blow you out of the water.”

“Did you get a chance to see that movie I was telling you about? It completely blew me away.”

8 - Lick

“The dessert was so good, I just wanted to lick the whole plate.”

“You have a little ketchup on your cheek. Come here and let me lick your face clean.” (Say this in a playful, joking, silly tone)

9 - Squeeze

“I’ll try to squeeze you in if I have the time.”

“I’m kind of a baby when it comes to horror movies, so I apologize in advance if I squeeze your hand too hard.”

“Come here and let me squeeze those little cheeks of yours. No not the ones on your face, the other ones.”

10 - Push

“That's just the push I needed to get this work done.”

“If I can't get this project done we'll have to push it to Thursday.”

“Listen, we both know all you want to do is push me onto the bed and have your way with me.”

11 - From Behind

“Did you see how the Giants came back from behind last night?”

“She was startled because I approached her from behind.”

“The most adorable puppy ever just came out from behind that tree.”

“What would you do if I came up from behind you and startled you?” (No matter what she says, next say this: “Okay, so how would react if I came up from behind and wrapped my arms around you?”)

12 - Thrust

“That was the main thrust of the argument, yes.”

“I didn't need it anymore so I thrust it aside.”

“You’ve been thrusting your hips at me the entire night. Are you just trying to turn me on?”

13 - Sore

"I hadn't taken my bike out for a few months, so after only an hour of riding it I knew that today I was going to be really sore."

(If you just beat her at a friendly competition)
"Don't be such a sore loser. Oh come on would a little friendly kiss on the cheek from the winner make you feel better?"

14 - On Top

"On top of that, he said he had to reschedule."

"I put my coffee mug on top of the bookshelf."

"You have to put in the hard work if you want to come out on top."

"Baby when I'm on top, I like to stay on top."

15 - Inside

"I know what kind of person you are on the inside."

"When it gets this cold, I prefer to be inside where it's warm."

"Do you want to come inside to watch some Netflix and chill?"

16 - Come

"Why don't you come on over?"

"I had to convince her to come."

(If you know for a fact she has never been to this venue before, say this in a very silly and cheesy way) "Hey baby, come here often?"

"Come here, I've gotta show you something."

17 - Handle

"I love my razor because of its smooth handle."

"You couldn't handle me."

"Listen missy, don't think that you're all that. I've handled girls much more difficult than you."

18 - Deep

"I love our deep conversations."

"I didn't realize you were so deep."

"A big turn on for me are those nights that you just stay up and really get to know somebody and you feel like you've gotten to dive really deep into what makes you, you."

19 - Lips

"I can't help but stare at your lips when you speak."

"I can't understand why women wear sticky gloss on their lips."

"With lips like those, you know what you must be really good at? Whistling." (Say that with a snarky smile)

20 - Dripping

"I'd love to go out but I have to fix my dripping faucet."

"I couldn't find my towel and was dripping wet for an hour."

"When you work out, do you prefer to only sweat a little or do you like to end up dripping?"

Text Messages That Make Her Wet

The art of writing text messages that will turn her on sexually is dead simple to pull off and incredibly effective! Generally, men are turned on by what they can see, and women are turned on by what they can imagine. So when you're able to paint an attractive, sensual and sexual picture in her mind, she's going to notice her panties becoming dripping wet incredibly fast.

Learning to express yourself using the written word is important. There is nothing especially wrong with "text speak" if you are trying to be brief and take a shortcut or two... but filling your message with slang and shortcuts which she might misinterpret is a surefire way to be ignored, or worse... You might just get exactly the opposite of what you want!

What Not To Do

Text messages can be a powerful communication tool, but there are definitely appropriate and inappropriate ways to use them in your relationships. Remember these few rules.

1) Don't use texting to do something that would be faster by phone. If you are trying to make plans for a date, don't spend 30 minutes writing with your thumbs when you could just call.

2) Don't text her immediately after your date to tell her what a great time you had. Both of you should take some time to think about the date and each other before making contact. After a day or two later, a quick text is a great way to reestablish contact with her.

3) If you're trying to be sarcastic or tell her a subtle yet clever joke, refrain for a while until she knows your personality well enough to know that you're joking. There's nothing worse than having her misinterpret what you're trying to say simply because she doesn't know you that well yet.

4) Don't overkill the emoticons. They can be quite helpful for her to figure out where your head is at, but if you're winking or grinning in every other sentence, it's just a bit silly and meaningless, isn't it? Calm down. Women want real men, and real men don't need that many little cartoons to say what they mean.

5) Don't text her in the middle of the night unless it's already established that you guys are friends with benefits. Don't text her a million times a day.

6) The Obvious: don't send her a picture of your junk unless she asks for it. If she shows you hers first, fair game, but otherwise, keep it in your pants and put the phone away.

7) Know exactly when to send her the first message. Okay, a girl just gave you her phone number. Awesome. So when is the best time to message her? Well, if you send her a message too soon you're going to come off as desperate and needy. If you wait too long she's going to forget about you and what she liked about you, so this can sometimes be a double edged sword. Here's a general rule of thumb you're going to want to follow. If she puts her number in your phone and she sticks around to continue the conversation and hang out with you more, within the very first minute you're going to want to send her a message with something really cheesy such as, "Hey, come here often?" This will ensure that she has your number and will start the line of dialogue. However, if she gave you her number and that marked the end of the conversation (i.e. at least one of you walked away), you're going to want to wait several hours. If you got her number early in the day, text her that night usually around 8:30-9pm. However, if she gave you her number in the evening, you're going to want to wait about 18 hours. Got it? Good.

Beyond these basic rules, how you address your texting partner depends a lot on what kind of relationship you have, and what kind you're looking for. So, what is it you desire?

Are you trying to get with someone new, or keep a fling around for a while? Are you interested in something more than a fling with a great new girl, or are you trying to get back with your ex? Are you just hoping that text messages can spice up your love life with your current partner?

Try on a few of these for size and see what text messaging can do for you. Bonus points if you can use the subtle-sexy words we discussed earlier!

The New Girl: flirt ferociously

Text messaging gives you the opportunity to flirt like a fiend behind the safety of your screen. You can try out a few things, spell check, give it a read over or three. You can be as bold and brazen as you like without having to worry she might see you blush.

“Can’t wait to bust a move with you again soon! Your dance moves are tight.”

If you want to be sure she remembers you, feel free to text her immediately after you get her number while you guys are still standing next to each other.

“Followed my friends to Finnigan’s Pub, you should come by. The place is always a blast.”

“Pouring rain out here, looking for a cab. Literally dripping wet. Hope you brought an umbrella!”

Be sure to sign your first text with your name, so she doesn’t have to awkwardly ask who it is. If you’re smooth, you’ll put your name and number in her phone when she gives you hers. Otherwise, keep your first text (and the next few, too) short and sweet. Don’t write her a novel. Save the good stuff for when you see her again!

Pro-tip: While you’re still standing next to her, text her something like this “hey, it’s John (that super cute guy you can’t stop flirting with)”

Remind her of something funny if you want to grab her attention, or give her a good story to tell her girlfriends.

“Hope you’re not still sore about that horseback riding joke. I was pretty hard on ya. ;)”

(Don’t forget the emoticon with this one! You don’t want her thinking that you are actually worried she might not text you back because of a silly joke you made. Confidence is key.)

Making jokes and coming across as funny, cool, calm and collected is a great way to grab her attention fast. Don’t overdo it on the cheesy stuff and don’t get too sarcastic, but do give yourself the opportunity to toot your own horn - in a wink-wink, nudge-nudge sort of way. When you say something like this next text, she needs to know you’re saying it with a smile, not a smirk.

“Going to play a game of b-ball with the guys. See if you can squeeze in a visit! My skills will blow your mind.”

And of course, when you do finally get around to sending her a real compliment and letting her know you’re interested, keep it simple and sweet. Go for the uniqueness!

“Screw nonchalance. I love how you push my boundaries and challenge me. Don’t know if I can handle you, but oh do I ever want to.”

Make contact, get to know each other, flirt and finally tell her that she’s awesome! Not so hard, is it?

The Fling: Control The Conversation

One of the best things about text messages is that they allow you to manage the flow of conversation. Say what you want, when you want, on your own schedule. Especially when things are busy and crazy, you may not want to call her unless you are ready to plan your next date, but you can use text messaging to remind her that you're still thinking about her.

Let her know that you are busy (and then, you know, actually be busy) so she realizes you have a life other than her, and so you have something interesting to talk about when you see her next. Tell her you'll call her soon, then get back to her within 24-48 hours max.

"Been a rough week, getting a handle on some hard projects. Finally on top of things. Call you soon to make a date!"

Pro-tip: This is actually incredibly important. Women this day and age go on many dates and are talking to a ton of different guys at all times. If she doesn't hear from you for even a day or two, she may begin to forget about you. So this is a great way to stay on her mind and let her know that you're still thinking about her as well. There's nothing worse than meeting a girl, getting her attracted to you, and then letting it fizzle out because you're busy. Within a few days she would've forgotten why she was attracted to you and you're going to need to start from scratch.

Your second and third dates are less about being Mr. Charm and more about not giving too much. Especially if this is only a physical relationship for you, honesty in your flirting is of the utmost importance. Stringing a girl along for sex is the best way to get a bad reputation and break a heart. There are lots of women out there who are into having great sex without the commitment of a long-term relationship.

Avoid sending the wrong signals by controlling the flow of information. Are you busy on her proposed date night because your parents are in town or because you have another date? Tell her you're busy. The only reason she would need to know why you're busy is if you wanted to invite her along... and you don't invite flings to meet your parents. If you want to invite her to meet your other lover, that's another book!

Build attraction between the two of you by being comfortable and using your sex appeal. Tell jokes. Give her a cute, sexy nickname. Be a tease but not a jerk. Remind her of the things you found in common during your first meetings. Maintain common ground, even if your lust is your only shared attribute.

“I’ve been licking my lips all day thinking about that awesome restaurant you suggested. You owe me a chapstick.”

Whatever you do, so long as you want things to be casual with your lover, keep your texts casual too.

“My schedule has been so tight lately, but I really want to squeeze in a few moments with you. Come to DJs for a coffee tomorrow. Noon?”

Don’t fall prey to the idea that you can trade nice-guy-ness for sex. Being sweet is just that... sweet. If you want to be sexy, be sexy!

Keep the focus in your texts on the sexy bits of your relationship, since that is where you want to focus your energy. Don’t flirt like a “nice guy” - be a sex fiend!

“Was screwing around inside the garage all day, dripping sweat, totally sore. Just like our last date! Rematch when I’m recovered?”

“Don’t worry, I’ll push through it. I didn’t blow all my energy. You could come by and lick my wounds later, if you’re worried.”

Initiating Intimacy

The woman you're with isn't a fling anymore, no longer simply an object of desire but of affection and... maybe even a little bit of love? When you start fantasizing about forever-more, the game has got to change!

So what kind of sexy and suggestive text messages communicate that you are an assertive alpha male, without making her feel like just another fling?

Don't just tell her that you want her. Tell her that she means something to you, that she isn't just sexy, but smart, sensual, supportive and all the other awesome things that she happens to be!

"Hey gorgeous! Can't wait to play another round of irish pub debate club with you! Come blow me away again with that big, deep mind of yours."

Appreciate her for everything that she does to make your life awesome. Having trouble coming up with something? That's a problem! Sit down and really think about it. Make a list of all her amazing attributes if you must. How many of them aren't entirely about her banging body?

“Been so hard trying to stay on top of things this week. Can’t stop thinking bout your tight moves. Should squeeze in another dance class soon!”

If you’re interested in a woman for something more than sex, it’s time for your dates to evolve. Get out and do something with a short-term plan. Dance lessons are great, especially because they not only allow you to get close with each other, but to get social with some other interesting people. Make some friends-in-common!

“Having a rough week? Sounds like you’ve been pushing yourself pretty hard. I’m sure I could do something about those sore muscles.”

The best thing about growing a more intimate relationship with someone is that you can develop your own secret language. At a dinner party and can’t get out soon enough? Enjoying a night on the town and want to rendezvous back at the bar? Get in touch and stay there.

“Don’t think I can handle this scene much longer. Screw the cold! Wanna head inside and get something wet on our lips?”

Keep her in the loop, stay in touch. You don’t have to text her every day with the same “Hey, what’s up?” message, but you should remind her regularly that you’re interested. Keep those lines of communication wide open.

The Ex You Want Back:

Text messaging is uniquely amazing for reestablishing contact with your ex. Texting is low impact, low commitment, low risk. It gives you the chance to approach her on her terms, control the tone of the conversation, and do things on your very own time (letting her do things on her own time too) - in other words, your cell is your best friend.

Your main goals for texting should follow a few steps.

1. Rebuild your connection with your ex. Be sure she actually wants to hear from you, then keep chatting.

Start your interactions with a no-strings needed message that conveys a desire to get back in touch. Make sure you've done some work on yourself and are willing to be as awesome for her as she was for you! Begin with something simple.

"Finally squeezed inside those old jeans from our first date. Thought of you! How are things? We should get together sometime to catch up."

2. Get her to call you. The whole point of texting should be to get back on speaking terms.

Bring up old inside jokes, nick names you have for co-workers and family members. Talk a bit about the awesome new things that you are doing with your life. What have you been up to? Learning a martial art or a new language? Chat it up.

"Is that tight wad at the grocer still around counting his pennies? That weirdo had some deep pockets! "

3. Setup a coffee date.

If you spend enough time bringing up your new and common interests, you can lead your lover to the idea of meeting face to face for a coffee date. Tease, flirt, spend some time talking about things that turn you both on.

"Thoughts of you whirling around inside my mind lately. Can't believe we spent the entire night catching up! It was a rough day at work, that's for sure."

4. Pump up the sexual tension.

Use a bit of metaphor, a touch of flirtation, and all the sexual innuendo you can muster!

"You looked so hot the other night! It's gonna be hard to wait a whole week until I can come see you again... but I can handle it."

Get as sexy as she is comfortable with and don't be afraid to push the boundaries a bit. Just don't ignore her signs of discomfort. If she isn't into sexting, just back off.

Disclaimer:

Whatever you do, make sure your ex actually wants to hear from you. And please DO NOT send her text messages after you've had any alcohol at all. It doesn't matter if you think you're still sober, you do not want to text her while intoxicated.

The Long-Term Lover: Keeping Touch

The better you know some one, the more you can play with these words and get more explicit with your text messages. Sexting isn't just for kids, you know! Be flirty or funny, or both, and most of all have some fun. Do give your lover a bit of lead-in, rather than jumping right to the good stuff. Even SMS-sex requires a bit of foreplay.

One of the hardest parts of long term relationships is keeping things interesting with all the humdrum of the nine to five rat race. Text messages let you keep in touch with your lover throughout the day, without compromising your (or her) work schedules. Whether she likes something fun and flirty, hot and dirty, or maybe just a little bit of accolades about her hard work throughout the day... text messaging is the key!

"You must be working hard inside today, I know how rough the rain is on you! I'll make it up to you when I come home, I promise."

"Sounds like you worked out hard at the gym today, babe! I bet you're sore. How about a nice, hot, deep-tissue massage when I come home?"

Use your imagination. Tell your lover how important she is to you. Remind her that you're thinking of her. Check in to see if there's anything you can do on your way home to make her life easier or sexier. And don't be afraid to get a bit hot and heavy! Sex is always better after a bit of anticipation.

The Single Hottest And Most Erotic Message of All Time

This section is going to be a little bit different than the rest of this eBook. It may also have the single best tip I could possibly provide you with for turning her on over text message.

Recently, I was texting with a guy that I had just met, and we were getting pretty flirty with one another. I told him I was starting to get a little hot and bothered by what he was saying, and what he responded with absolutely stopped me in my tracks, made me grab my keys and drive over to his apartment right away.

Within a few days, I'd shown it to many of my girlfriends and all of them agreed that this was the single sexiest and most erotic text message they had ever read in their lives.

Just note that when you use this message, you should reserve it for only when you and a girl are actively flirting with each other pretty heavily. When she tells you that you're turning her on, you're going to want to respond with the following:

*Note: this works exceptionally well with a girl that you have not had sex with yet.

“One of my biggest turn ons is being able to build the sexual tension up so high we can't take it anymore and just need to attack each other.”

“I know that I haven't done my job right until there's an uncomfortable feeling of emptiness between your legs like something is missing. And it almost hurts to sit down or stand up until I fill the void.”

I understand that this particular message may seem a bit bold for a lot of guys. But remember, your goal is to create an image in her head that utilizes as many of her senses as possible and guides her body in the direction that you want. A message like this one will do that better than just about anything else you could send her.

Dirty Questions To Make Her Wet

It's easy to ask these 20 questions when you're sitting with her, but if she feels uncomfortable or believes you're trying too hard or going too fast, you may end up blowing your chances. And you'll have a hard time making her like you again.

On the other hand, by texting a few sexy questions to a girl, you can always make it seem like a joke if she doesn't warm up to you. It's easy, safe and a foolproof way to turn a girl on from a distance.

Use these questions, and if you charm the girl the right way, you could charm the pants off her and make out with her by the time you reach the twentieth question!

And the best part, it'll work wonders if she's your girlfriend or even if she's a flirty girl you have a crush on. Ask her these questions late at night for best results!

#1 Are you alone? This question is perfect to understand if she's idle and all alone at home. You obviously can't flirt or talk sex if her family is around her. Say something bold like "I wish I could be there with you" when she reciprocates with an affirmative.

#2 What are you doing right now? Play it nice and slow. This can help you be certain that she's alone and bored enough to give you her complete attention.

#3 Do you like cuddling when you lie in bed? Warm her up to a flirty conversation without overstepping the line. This can help open her up by talking about cuddling with you.

#4 What do you wear when you go to bed? / What are you wearing? A curious question that's perfect to ask a girl when she's in bed already. It's personal, and yet not too sexual. Say something like "Gosh, I can only imagine how cute you look right now" when she describes herself.

If it's your girlfriend, ask her what she's wearing and if she doesn't mention her lingerie *which she may not without a bit of coaxing*, ask about her lingerie and also the color. A perfect start.

#5 What do you think you look sexiest in? Get her to talk sexual by talking about her sexy clothing. It's flattering and definitely sexual.

#6 Have you ever watched someone else make out accidentally or on purpose? This question gets both of you in the mood. And yet, by directing it at a third person, you can avoid any uncomfortable situation at the start.

#7 Has a guy ever touched you discreetly in a public place? Girls have a thing about sexual groping. Even if it's accidental, it's something they just don't forget. You can answer something like "I wish I could have been that guy!" after she tells you about an incident she likes.

#8 Have you ever made out with a guy just because you were horny at that time? Find out if she's a girl who can be coaxed into having sex with a guy in the heat of the moment.

#9 If you had a pair of x-ray glasses, which part of a guy's body *below his shoulders* would you see first? Time to get naughty. Really, how many things can a girl take a look at below a guy's shoulders? Let her answer the question so you always make it seem like she's the one talking dirty and not you.

#10 Do you like boxers or briefs? This is a clichéd question and even if a girl doesn't care about it, she'd most probably say that she likes a boxer. Answer this question by telling her what you're wearing. The whole focus here is to get her to think of your package without really making it obvious.

#11 What's your secret move to turn a guy on? By asking her to visualize making out with a guy and describe it to you, you're making her fantasize about sex. And at the same time, she may go into details just to prove how good she is sexually.

#12 If there's one place a guy should touch you to make you horny, which is that? This goes straight to sex and arousal. And if she does answer this truthfully, in all probability, she's already aroused.

#13 Does a massage make you wet? A full body massage makes almost all girls wet. You can always tell her something like "Just so you know, I came first in my masseuse class and I would love to give you a massage. And don't worry, now that I know you get horny while getting a massage, I'll linger in all the right places."

#14 If I kissed your lips accidentally while kissing goodbye, would you mind it? Make her imagine your kiss. It's a perfect question to get her to pucker up.

#15 What do you like more? Giving oral or receiving? No matter what she answers, you can always answer with the opposite of what she says. If she likes giving oral, say you like getting it. If she likes getting it, tell her you love giving it!

#16 How do you think my body would look better, shaved or natural? Isn't it a nice thought to know that the girl you like is picturing you naked the minute you ask her this question?

#17 What should a guy do to make you wet? Get straight to the sweet spot. And when she does answer this question, talk about question #12 again and get descriptive about her pleasure spots.

#18 If I were whispering all these questions in your ear, would you be turned on? If you've got the conversation going this far, she's obviously wet already. But it always sounds a lot better hearing it from the girl you're texting.

#19 If you didn't have a boyfriend, do you think we would have made out with each other? / If I were with you right now, do you think we would have kissed each other? This question can actually get you into her bed, but you need to wait for the last question to get an invitation from her.

#20 If a guy wants to come over to your place and make out with you right now, would you like that? Don't talk about yourself just yet, unless you already know she wants you to come over. If she answers "yes", go full speed ahead to her place. Otherwise, play the seduction game for a few more minutes before telling her you want to come to her place right that instant.

Putting It All Together

We just went over dozens of trigger words, sentences, and text messages that have been tested and proven to send her sexual desire into overdrive and force her brain to imagine having wild and crazy sex with you.

But there's one crucial factor you need to be aware of:

If You Can't Satisfy Her In Bed, Don't Expect Her To Ever Come Back For More

Women have a lot more sexual options than most men do. If she's attractive and very sexual by nature, you can bet she has tons of guys who would kill to get her in bed.

So why would she ever want to be with a guy who couldn't satisfy her?

If you're looking for her to come over more often, become a regular sex buddy, or even turn this into a potential long-term relationship, you're going to need to know how to take care of every one of her needs in bed.

Otherwise, you can kiss your chances of her coming back goodbye.
